Communication in an Emergency

Ever wonder what would happen to normal communications in a major earthquake? Chances are electricity would be out for several days, cell phone coverage would be interrupted, and therefore, no TV or internet. Would you feel isolated and alone with no smart phone coverage, no television, and no computer internet? With proper planning you could reach out to your loved ones and let them know your situation.

Here are some basic tips:

1. Phones in General – In a disaster, only use phones for emergencies. Your call could block others trying to get through for life threatening help.

2. Cell Phones - In a disaster, if cell towers are not damaged, local voice calls on cell phones will probably be overloaded, but text messages or email may still be able to be sent and received. Even if local calls will not get through, long distance calls may still get through. Make sure you have an outside of the area contact person whom others could call to get information on your situation.

3. Local Phones - If cell phones are not working in a disaster, traditional hard-wired phones plugged directly into a phone jack, including pay phones, may still work. 911 calls on pay phones are free. Keep in mind the local calls may still be jammed and may not go through. If you do not get a dial tone, stay on the line and wait for your turn in the queue. If you hang up, you start all over again.

4. Radio Broadcasts – Some radio stations may be down, but you can use your car radio or a battery operated AM/FM radio to get the news. Cupertino Radio 1670 AM, KCBS 740 AM or 106.9 FM, KSOL 98.9 FM, KQED 88.5 FM, and KJSO 92.3 FM will be broadcasting emergency information on local conditions, road closures, relief stations, and help reporting stations.

5. Reporting Stations (ARKs) – Cupertino has six reporting stations, which will be set up in case of a major earthquake or other emergency and will be staffed by Cupertino Citizen Corps (CCC) volunteers. The CCC volunteers are trained in light search and rescue, first-aid, and other emergency relief functions.

The main function is to gather critical damage information for the Cupertino Emergency Operations Center (EOC), so that emergency help can be dispatched and to disseminate useful help information to residents. One component of the CCC is the amateur radio communication group called CARES that can communicate with the EOC, which is staffed by people who will coordinate Fire, Sheriff, and other public utilities and services to help address the needs throughout the City.

You can find out where your local ARK is located by going to www.cupertino.org/GIS/ARK\_Locations.html. Information booths will be set up at all ARKs to pass along information to residents.

Cupertino Alert System (CAS) – Be sure to sign up for CAS which will deliver crucial information either before a localized emergency, such as a chemical spill or emergency road blockage, or after an earthquake with relief information. CAS delivers messages via phone, text, or email which is set up by you. Visit to cupertino.org/cas to sign up.

Family Meeting Place

Whether communications is or is not available, you will want to make sure your family is safe. Set up a family meeting place outside the home. It could be a front yard tree or corner park or school yard where you will feel safe from further earthquake shocks.

Upcoming Public Sessions:

Earthquake Preparedness and Home Safety

The class is one hour and is scheduled on request for Cupertino businesses, churches, or social groups of 8 or more. This class can come to you! Contact the Cupertino Office of Emergency Services (OES) at 408.777.3335, email OES@cupertino.org for more information, or to request a class for your company, group or organization.

Personal Emergency Preparedness Class (PEP)

offered by the Santa Clara County Fire Department. The class covers Earthquake safety, Disaster preparation, Disaster communication tips, First aid techniques that save lives, Home safety, Fire Safety including how to use a fire extinguisher, Emergency supply suggestions - and more! The next two PEP classes are: Monday, Dec 5, 6 - 9 pm, Cupertino City Hall, 10300 Torre Ave, Cupertino and Wed, Jan 18, 4 - 7 pm, Campbell Community Center, Orchard City Banquet Hall, 1 W Campbell Avenue, Campbell. For Registration by e-mail, info@cnt.sccgov.org, (provide your full name, e-mail address, phone number and residential or work address in the West Valley, or contact the Santa Clara County Fire Department at 408.378.4010.

Community Emergency Response Team (CERT) class

This is the perfect time to learn to be part of the disaster response solution. This is an intensive training session by the Santa Clara County Fire Department on preparedness and helping others during a disaster. The course is offered four times a year and you will have one-year to make up any missed sessions for graduation. You may attend the final exercise once all six sessions have been completed. We encourage all Cupertino residences to attend this worthwhile training. The next class runs Jan 10 - 26, Tuesday and Thursdays, 6 - 9 pm with the final hands on and graduation Saturday, Jan 28, 9:30 am - 12:30 pm. All classes will be held at Campbell Community Center, Orchard City Banquet Hall, 1 W Campbell Avenue, Campbell. The registration fee is $35 which will be reimbursed to Cupertino residents upon successful completion of the course. For If you have questions or want to register contact: info@sccfd.org or 408.378.4010.

If you do only one thing to prepare this month:

Ask an out of area friend or family member to be your emergency contact person and share his/her phone number with your family members.

by Gail Fretwell-Hugger

Many years ago, the principal of little Montebello School was Mildred Jones. The Jones family lived on the Ridge for quite some time. Daughter Judy Jones married one of my cousins, Dennis Britton. When Mildred retired as school principal, son Jerry Jones took over and ended up in the classroom. At Montebello, the principal oversaw the school taught classes too.

Jerry used to troop the upper grades down to the Cupertino Library. One December, Jerry brought some students down and we started talking about the good old days at school and Christmas pageants. Jerry said, "Come on up to our Christmas play." I think he wrote it.

Driving up to Montebello Road on a dark December night might make a believer out of just about anybody; and a prayer is definitely in order. The little schoolhouse was packed with proud parents, grandparents, friends, skittish students in amazing costumes, and a feast laid out for the party afterward. Hearty greetings and a general catching up on the news between "Ridge" and "Canyon" people and the few "flatlanders" in attendance preceded the program, but finally everyone found a folding chair or pressed against the walls. Jerry and various parents herded the students onto the tiny stage and the play got under way.

It was immediately evident that the students costumed as "rocks" and "trees" were having a hard time keeping their positions on the postage stamp sized platform. Since they were arranged around the edge, if they moved or even coughed they were in danger of falling off the stage. Nobody got hurt whenever this happened during the play; the story would stop while the "rock" or the "tree" was picked up and repositioned and the audience would choke back grins and giggles.

The story involved some animals in a forest trying to decorate a tall fir tree to celebrate the birth of Jesus. Any student not a rock or tree was some kind of animal. If there is anything more appealing than small children playing little animals, I don't know what it could be. One by one the "animals" came forward to place their decorations on the tree and say their lines, and anyone who has ever sat through a children's Christmas program will recall getting misty-eyed and a lump in the throat or a silly smile on their face. It's one of the joys of Christmas.

Finally the tree was finished except for the star at the top. For some reason the "animals" didn't know how to get the star up to the top of the tree until a little girl in a kitten costume was chosen to place the star. Unfortunately, every time she got the star in place, it would drift back down to the floor. With great deliberation she would pick it up and attach it again and again only to have it fall. About the fourth try she got the star fixed and while the audience held its breath, she turned to face everyone and with an angelic smile announced, "There, now its purrrrrrrrrfect!" Which of course caused an immediate adult meltdown and everyone clapped until their hands hurt.

Coming back down the mountain, the miles of lights in the valley twinkled and the stars shone overhead much like those other hills and a little town in a valley halfway around the world so many centuries ago.

Merry Christmas everyone!

Excerpts from "The West Side and How We Grew a geographic history of Cupertino."

Reduce, reuse, re-wrap!

'Tis the season of giving—and receiving! But remember that once you've unwrapped that wonderful gift, the wrapping paper can be recycled as long it does not have metallic ink on it. Small amounts are not an issue, but metallic foil based wrapping paper is not recyclable

And if your plans include snuggling up with loved ones next to your fire-place, resist the temptation to burn wrapping paper as the inks may contain toxic, heavy metals which create air pollution when burned. Those toxins can then settle and become water pollution.

To avoid using wrapping paper at all, try picking up some festive fabric. It can be folded and taped and held with a ribbon-like paper, but the fabric can be reused again and again. For those who like to sew, there are patterns for sewing gift bags as well. Check out some ideas here: craftsy.com/blog/2015/12/free-gift-bag-patterns.

Give the gift of reuse this holiday season!

Household Hazardous Waste Collected at Your Doorstep

Common household products—cleaners, pesticides, fertilizers, and automotive fluids—may be helpful around the house but can be toxic to humans, wildlife, and the environment. Frequently, these products are purchased and not completely used, leading to the question, "How do I dispose of these?"

It's illegal and dangerous to place these products in any waste receptacle or pour them down a drain. There is, however, a convenient solution for Cupertino residents to safely rid themselves of these unwanted and unused materials.

Through an agreement with Recology, Cupertino's waste hauler, residents receive door-to-door Household Hazardous Waste (HHW) collection, operated by Waste Management (WM) At-Your-Door. This service provides personal collection right at your home. No boxing or transporting of toxic materials is required.

What's accepted?

HHW that are accepted include paint products; household cleaners; garden chemicals; items containing mercury such as thermometers, electronic waste, automotive fluids; and even medical sharps such as syringes and lancets. View a list of acceptable items at cupertino.org/hhw.

How does it work?

Schedule your appointment by calling 800.449.7587, Monday through Friday between 5 am and 5 pm, or online at wmatyourdoor.com. After your appointment is scheduled, you will be mailed a kit containing a thick plastic bag and a zip tie to secure the contents.

Any unlabeled materials will need to be marked and identified so they can be safely transported and disposed. Unlabeled and unmarked items are not accepted due to safety and handling reasons. Some larger items are acceptable outside of the bag, such as fire extinguishers, televisions, VCRs, and computers.

To learn more, visit cupertino.org/hhw or contact us at environmental@cupertino.org.

Free, Reusable Produce Bags for Cupertino Residents

Are you a pro at shopping with your reusable grocery bag? Are you ready to take the reuse mentality to the next level?

If you answered yes, the City of Cupertino challenges you to ditch single-use plastic produce bags and go reusable. These reusable produce bags conserve resources, prevent litter, and protect our local creeks and wildlife.

The City has free, reusable produce bags for Cupertino residents while supplies last. Pick up your produce bag between 7:30 am and 4:30 pm, Monday through Friday at City Hall, 10300 Torre Avenue. One produce bag per visit.

RecycleStuff.org – Your One-Stop Recycling Resource

City Hall will be closed from December 23 through January 2. If you're in need of recycling services during our holiday shutdown, the Center for the Development of Recycling (CDR) may be of assistance.

CDR is a San Jose State University-based, non-profit, environmental research, and service organization committed to maintaining and distributing recycling information through phone calls and their website RecycleStuff.org.

CDR staff is available by phone Monday through Friday between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. to assist you with all your recycling questions. Contact CDR at 408.924.5453 or simply search the item in question on their website at recyclestuff.org.

Share the Warmth: Cupertino Hosts Coat and Blanket Drive

The City of Cupertino and Recology are collecting new and gently used coats and blankets for those in need. Coats and blankets can be dropped off in the lobby at Cupertino City Hall, 10300 Torre Avenue.

The coats and blankets will be donated to West Valley Community Services to share the warmth

Biking Safety Tip #8

Bicycle Rules of the Road

Bicycles are required to obey the same rules as other vehicles, have the same rights and responsibilities, must stay as far to the right as is practicable (left or right on one-way street) and travel in the same direction as other traffic. Equipment rules for bicycles require reflector lights and a headlamp (these are available at any reputable bicycle shop, on-line and at other retail outlets) when riding at or after dusk. Helmets are required for children under the age of 18; these are optional but strongly recommended for adults. For additional information on this topic see sacbike.org/for-bike-riders/rules-of-the-road. For more bicycle information see our website, walkbikecupertino.org.
